

Freewheeling!

If you recommend an apprentice

Do you know someone who is looking to embark on a career in civil engineering?

We will give them the chance to attend the College of West Anglia in King's Lynn, Norfolk on a block release basis. They will also gain valuable experience working on live projects throughout the UK while being paid a good salary. Upon successful completion they will gain a recognised qualification that could lead to a foundation degree in Civil Engineering.

If you recommend an apprentice not only will you be helping someone start on a long and rewarding career path, if they are successful, we will also reward you with a free bicycle.*
